The Asia Pacific Quality Organisation Inc officially formed in 1985 is a non-political, a not for profit organization with a 33 years history with amongst the largest umbrella-type organization that has brought together leading quality and quality associated Asia Pacific organizations and organisations with similar vision to champion Quality and Business Excellence effort. In 2018 two new members from Russia and Saudi Arabia joined in and today in 2019 APQO membership includes core council members comprising organisations from the countries like Australia, China, Canada, Fiji, India, Indonesia, South Korea, Malaysia, Mexico, Chile, New Zealand, Nepal, Pakistan, Peru, Philippines, Russia, Saudi Arabia, Singapore, Sri Lanka, United Arab Emirates, United States of America, and Vietnam. APQO is now headquartered in Auckland, New Zealand.

AIIA repositioned

Considering the diversity and spread of APQO membership, APQO do not practice of naming its awards after individuals. However, would support this when and where an individual has played a significant role directly for APQO e.g. founder, linked directly to APQO as an organisation. This is to keep the award exclusive and meaningful for APQO in recognising worthy role models after whom the award is named as there are many note-worthy role models all over the world.

The Harrington/Ishikawa Quality Professional Award named after APQO's first honorary joint Presidents will for now be APQO's only Individual International Award named after Individuals and will be presented to a deserving quality professional that has stood out and made outstanding contributions to the promotion and implementation of quality methodologies in the Asia Pacific region and or globally. Only one award will be presented to a deserving individual annually, however if there are no worthy nominations, no award will be presented.

Prior to 2018 the various categories of the APQO Awards named after individuals administered by APQO and judged by the WLHF Board were presented during APQO International Conference Awards & Dinner Gala Platform. To facilitate clarity in the effort to enhance the APQO award process and preventing any conflict of process when shortlisting worthy winners and role models, with effect from 2018 only AIIA winners managed and judged by APQO panel of judges will be recognised at the APQO International Conference Awards Presentation platform. This will also allow APQO to strengthen its processes and be independent in its efforts to have a robust award programme for outstanding individuals.

All awards must have a proposer from any APQO member organisations, supported by the Core Council Member and known to the nominee.

There are seven categories of APQO International Individual Awards (AIIA) namely:
